

CAN YOU MAKE A MAP?

ESRI Canada Scholarship 2023

$2000 award + software & training • Deadline March 31, 2023 • Open to current UBC students

Each ESRI Scholarship applicant should provide no more than three or four pages, two pages of text and one or two pages of graphics (maps, tables, figures, models, diagrams), outlining why they should receive the award. The text pages should describe the applicants' background in one paragraph and then detail their use of GIS, including when it was done and for whom. The graphics page(s) should include an exported image of the graphics that they have produced that illustrates the outcome of their analysis. Applications will be reviewed according to the clarity of the presentation, the level of GIS innovation, and the quality of the graphic presentation.

The scholarship consists of the following, to be provided by Esri Canada directly to the successful student candidate after they have submitted to Esri Canada a poster and a report (may be submitted as a story map) demonstrating their use of Esri technology:

1. A one-time payment of $2,000.
2. A three-year term license of ArcGIS for Student Use:
 - ArcGIS Online with GIS Professional Advanced User Type and 1000 Service Credits
 - ArcGIS Pro Advanced Named User license
